Apply for the AGR Competitive Edge Scholarship

Dear Future Badger,

Are you planning to attend college this fall and considering the University of Wisconsin-Madison? If so, Alpha Gamma Rho (AGR) has created the Competitive Edge Conference and Scholarship Program for students interested in attending UW-Madison. This program will help you transition the skills you learned as a high school student to the college campus and adjust to becoming a Wisconsin Badger by getting an early start learning about life at UW-Madison.

Alpha Gamma Rho at the University of Wisconsin-Madison is offering multiple scholarships for incoming students. We encourage all admitted students to apply via the link below. The other part of the scholarship selection process is an interview. Interviews will take place on campus on Saturday, March 16th, unless other arrangements are made.

Along with this scholarship program, a conference will be held on campus, where you will be able to meet other future Badgers, learn from students on campus, and listen to keynote speakers. Parents are encouraged to attend as there will also be a program catered towards them.

Competitive Edge is designed to provide incoming students and their parents an idea of what to expect while attending UW-Madison. Members of AGR will be on hand to answer questions about personal experiences and the best ways to smoothly transition into college life, as well as the opportunity to speak with students who are a part of the various majors that the university has to offer. Please note that the dress will be business professional for students.

New this year, the Competitive Edge Conference and Scholarship program is open to high school juniors and transfer students (previously only open to high school seniors). High school juniors are able to participate in all program events such as keynote speaker, interviews, campus tours, question and answer sessions, ect. however they are not eligible to receive scholarships. They may attend again their senior year, in which they will be eligible to receive scholarships. Juniors are encouraged to attend to learn new skills and prepare for the transition to college along with all the other benefits of the Competitive Edge program.
