

Dodge County Master Gardener Association (DCMGA)

DCMGA holds a monthly educational program that is free and open to the public. The educational meetings are held at: 6:30 p.m. at Moraine Park Technical College 700 Gould Street, Beaver Dam, Entrance K3, Room 120. The June 26, 2025 meeting will focus on Fantastic Bees and Where to Find Them. You can find a list of all of the topics available in 2025 at <https://www.dodgecountymga.com/>. See below for more details about the upcoming presentation.

DCMGA is a network of individuals dedicated to horticulture.

FANTASTIC BEES

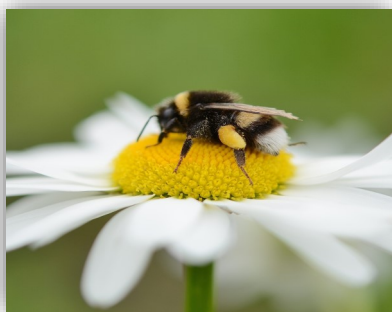

AND WHERE TO FIND THEM

Presenter

Jennifer Lazewski is a Master Gardener with more than ten years of experience in pollinator and hummingbird gardening. She is also a Master Naturalist with extensive experience in native plants and native bees. A veteran bumble bee observer, she is a member of the DNR Bumble Bee Ambassador group.

Pollinator gardening is on the rise as “wild” gardens have become a trend and gardeners have become eager to help build native ecosystems. Jennifer Lazewski designs and plants for bees, birds, and butterflies in her urban Wauwatosa yard and other locations where she works as a volunteer.

She will address how you can help pollinators (like bees) thrive with native plants and continuous blooms. Please join us as we travel through the seasons from spring to fall learning about fantastic native bees, how to identify them, and the native plants that

